Tough Times Workshop for Travel Agents

Travel and tourism consultancy firm, TA Fastrack is holding a workshop for travel agency owners and managers titled "How to thrive in tough times". The workshop will show the steps travel agents need to minimise the impact of the current economic climate and achieve a substantial increase in profit.

'With uncertain times ahead in the industry, everyone's currently thirsty for fresh new ideas and strategies to allow them to do better than just survive in the future,' said workshop presenter and TA Fastrack CEO, Adrian Caruso. "In the workshop I will also showcase what the best travel agents from around Australia and the world are doing to survive and how these practices can be adopted in every Australian travel agency".

The TA Fastrack workshops will be held in Brisbane on 26 May, Sydney on the 2nd of June and in Melbourne on the 3rd of June. Mr. Caruso will show travel agency owners and managers what their focus needs to be over the next year, and how they can work smarter not harder. "This is undoubtedly the best few hours you can invest in for the future of your travel agency," said Mr. Caruso.
