Travel Agencies to Profit with New Program

Travel and tourism consultancy firm TA Fastrack this morning announced the opening of a new group business coaching program designed specifically for travel agency owners and managers to assist them with growing their profits. With a focus on networking between like minded travel agency owners, learning new skills to combat the current economic climate and finding out what the best practices of top travel agents around the world are doing from Australia's leading travel agency business coach, Adrian Caruso.

'Group coaching is a great way to gain invaluable guidance, support and feedback from your coach and peers in regular group meetings and the group's online discussion forums,' said Mr. Adrian Caruso, CEO of TA Fastrack. 'Travel agency owners and/or managers will not only learn the skills to dramatically boost their profits, but find out what works, what doesn't work in their business and others, and what it takes to boost business to its highest and how they can work less.'

For more information on how fastrack groups can assist travel agents from $200 per month, please go to www.tafastrack.com.au/groupcoaching or call TA Fastrack on 07 36301298.
